

ANA MARÍA RODRÍGUEZ SÁNCHEZ

Predocctoral Student

I've conducted my research in the field of particle physics, particularly on the phenomenology of supersymmetric models and its predictions for electroweak observables that will be tested with high precision in the Large Hadron Collider (LHC) or neutrino experiments.